

Before and After

Vocabulary

Before, after, morning, afternoon, evening, then, next, finally, first.

Maths Focus

- Children engage in language associated with time by describing, sorting and ordering events.

Maths Mastery

- Children can vary the language they use to describe the next event in a chronological order.

Objective

To use language associated with time to describe a sequence of events.

National Curriculum Links

Year 1 Measurement

- Sequence events in chronological order using language [for example, before and after, next, first, today, yesterday, tomorrow, morning, afternoon and evening].

Common Errors and Conceptual Obstacles

- Children may constantly use the terms 'next' and 'then' to describe a list of chronological events.

Maths Talk

Why have you placed the numbers in those boxes?

How do you know that is the correct word?

Could that picture be used in another box?

What do you do at these times?